

Get Employment and Training Services Right in Your Own Neighborhood

MOBILE CAREER NAVIGATORS

MOBILE CAREER NAVIGATORS BRING RESOURCES AND SERVICES FROM THE BALTIMORE MAYOR'S OFFICE OF EMPLOYMENT DEVELOPMENT (MOED) TO NEIGHBORHOODS WHERE ACCESS IS OFTEN LIMITED, CONNECTING RESIDENTS FROM UNDERSERVED COMMUNITIES TO EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING SERVICES.

Mobile Career Navigators help residents:

- Register on the Maryland Workforce Exchange at bit.ly/MWE-Reg
- Apply online to jobs
- Write resumes
- Get information on training
- Get information on adult education & literacy programs
- Find support services to health, childcare, housing, food, financial literacy, legal assistance, and other social services as needed

Career Navigators are equipped with a laptop and internet access and only need a workspace to provide services.

Background

MOED's mission is to deliver economic justice to Baltimore residents. To MOED, economic justice means creating an equitable workforce system that responds to all residents' needs and provides viable economic opportunities to all residents, especially those who have been generationally and systemically disadvantaged. We believe that every resident deserves the opportunity for meaningful work and a hopeful future.

This initiative is part of Baltimore's economic recovery strategy. MOED is deploying mobile staff to underserved communities to provide workforce services to city residents. We will prioritize unemployed and underemployed residents and particularly our most disadvantaged jobseekers, including returning citizens, opportunity youth, and public assistance recipients.
